POWER & ENERGY

The Power & Energy industry is one of the world's most dynamic industries and is currently experiencing a period of phenomenal change. Both regulators and consumers are demanding unparalleled levels of transparency, whilst at the same time technological possibilities continue to change at extreme pace. Business models are adapting, green technologies are emerging, new competitors are entering the sector, and the pressure on costs is increasing – and so are the levels of uncertainty.

WHO WE ARE

BRINGING THE POWER TO YOU

Our Power & Energy division provides customized risk solutions to cope with the boundless challenges the industry is facing. The division's engagement and expertise span the full spectrum of upstream (exploration and production) and downstream (refining and Petrochemical) risks and insurance issues that impact operational and financial success throughout the entire energy and power value chain. This expertise, combined with Minet's vast knowledge of the African continent, allows us to provide clients with tailor-made packages that best suit their needs.
